

REMARKS

The noted amendment to claim 12 is being submitted at this time to correct a double recitation inadvertently included in claim 12 by the last amendment. Specifically, the "at least one voltage limiting unit" and the "at least one current limiting unit" were recited twice. This amendment corrects this error which was just detected. Claim 12 has also been clarified to note that the at least one energy source, the at least one voltage limiting unit and the at least one current limiting unit are located in the at least one capsule unit. This recitation was also previously included in claim 12 but it was not as clearly recited as it now is.

Claim 12 has not been broadened, but only corrected and clarified, and as such the amendment should be entered.
